RATON.

Special Correspondence.

Raton, N. M., March 28.—The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Cohn was the scene of a very pleasant party, given for Mrs. Hamblin and Chief Justice Mills, Thursday night, the 29th inst. What was played at four tables, the contestants, besides the guests of honor, being Mr. and Mrs. Van Houten, Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Remberg, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Officer, Dr. and Mrs. Shuler, Mrs. Leahy, and Messrs. Wright, Stricker and Gartner. Palatable refreshments were served after the game. When the scores were counted, it was found that Mrs. Hamblin was highest of the ladies and received a pretty cut glass dish as a prize. Mrs. Mendelson being next high was given a dainty china cup and saucer. Mr. Remberg won a handsome ebony clock brush, his score was remarkably being nearly fifty in twenty-four hands. Mr. and Mrs. Cohn excel in entertainers and this time they added to their well established reputation for generous hospitality. The house was gorgeously trimmed in carnations and potted plants.

There is a new social club in Raton. Some of the members are non-residents, and every alternate meeting will be held in Las Vegas. W. E. Gortner is president of the club. The meeting will occur semi-annually, when important questions will be discussed and a Dutch lunch served.

Mrs. Mendelson charmingly entertained a party of ladies at what Monday afternoon. The entertainment was given for Mrs. Hamblin, besides whom there were in attendance, Mesdames Quick, Adams, Cohn, Remberg, Van Houten, Officer, Price, Fugate, Shuler, Dwyer, Chapman, Leahy, M. E. Dawson, Leighton, Gavin, Sandusky, P. H. Ayers, J. H. Walker, Jr., and Miss O'Brien. The floral decorations in the parlors were indicative of the spring season, being hyacinths, tulips and narcissus, while the dining room was done in carnations. There was also a profusion of palms and ferns everywhere. The refreshments were dainty and delicious. At cards Mrs. Cohn was lucky enough to win a beautiful ebony and silver tea set. Mrs. Dwyer a handsome leather purse and Mrs. Quick a pot of sweet-scented hyacinths.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Leahy pleasantly entertained for the "court" and courted (Mrs. Hamblin) at what. Six tables were occupied and the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Officer, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Sandusky, Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Gavin, Mesdames Hobbs, Cohn, Shuler, Leighton, Van Houten and Remberg, Messrs. Gortner, Wright, D. J. Leahy, and Dr. Stricker. The parlors were effectively decorated in white and green, with Easter lilies, tulips, hyacinths, narcissus and palms, all suggestive of the approach of Easter. In the dining room carnations were used. A dinner fork was awarded Mrs. Mendelson, a dessert fork was given Mrs. Hamblin, for a guest prize. A pot of hyacinths to Mrs. Officer, a copy of "Audrey" to Mr. Officer and a fancy basket of colored Easter eggs to Mrs. Dawson as prizes. Refreshments were served, after which the gentlemen participated in a smoker and the ladies to fortune telling, to pass a pleasant hour or so, when "good nights" were said.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Manley Dawson pleasantly entertained their whist club. In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Nylus the Leahys took a hand in the game. A unique feature in this club is the scoring of couples instead of individuals. The prize will be given at the end of the season. Mrs. Dawson served a delicious supper. The table was laid for ten and was dressed in carnations.

The last of the parties for Mrs. Hamblin, who leaves for her home today, was given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Remberg. Easter decorations were in evidence in this pretty home also, and the refreshments were also suggestive of the season. Mesdames Hamblin, Van Houten, Fugate, Quick, J. H. Walker, Jr., J. H. Walker, Sr., Officer, Price, Adams, Cohn, Remberg, Mendelson, Chapman, Shuler, Cohn, Leahy, Dwyer, Sandusky, Shaffer and Messrs. O'Brien and Erlyn Shuler. Mrs. Hamblin received a silver teaspoon, Mrs. Chapman another spoon and Mrs. Shuler a box of stationery as souvenirs.

There is every indication that court will last well along into next week, which means that our social world will be gay for awhile longer. There have been a number of informal dinners, suppers and evenings at cards during the past two weeks, as well as the larger affairs mentioned. Judge Mills is always center of being entertained well while the holding court in Raton, and the presence of Mrs. Hamblin has been the occasion of many pleasant functions also.

The Seven-hundred Enchere club met at Mrs. Cohn's last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Hamblin was presented with the week's prize—a silver fork.

GOLDEN.

Special Correspondence.

Golden, March 28.—Mr. Osborn, connected with J. B. Mayo in several mining claims in the district, has been in camp several days.

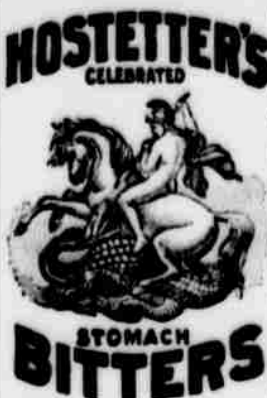

W. S. Rishworth, manager of the Baird Mining company, is expecting word from his company to start operations in the Baird.

Edgar Moore, superintendent of the Industrial Placer Mining company, in company with Mr. Wilks, are doing considerable work on the company's ground.

Witnesses have been summoned to Santa Fe district court in the case of the Argo Mining company vs. The Divina Pastora company. This case has been pending several years in court and once settled, heavy development work will be done in the Divina Pastora claim.

Messrs. Trother, Bierman & Co., with several other men, are getting ore out from the Old Timer mine. The mill at Golden, where the ore will be treated, has been put in shape, and everything will be ready by the time the ore is ready to be hauled down, which will be next week.

Some very encouraging news from the Argo company's mines in this district has been given to the superintendent of the company by the men now doing some development work.

The death of the wife of John Trebil, which occurred at about 4 o'clock this morning in south Winslow, came like a thunder clap to the citizens of Winslow, notwithstanding the fact that he had been sick a long time. It was understood the lady was out of danger. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church and the remains will be laid at rest in the Winslow cemetery. She leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss. One son is grown and married and the daughter is about 13 years of age.

Mrs. John Downs is on the sick list, but is reported some better.

Harry Dicks, who has been bedfast for some weeks, is reported as improving.

Winslow is to have another newspaper, owned and edited by Messrs. H. A. Simms and H. H. Herr, and they promise a live paper. If the people are not enlightened it will not be for the want of live newspapers in the town.

Mr. Monahan and Mr. Butler, from Needles, Cal., are in the city visiting friends and are the guests of our popular gent's furnishing merchant, Freeman Stewart, of Monahan, Murphy & Co.

The Fee family have taken up their residence on Knoll hill near the school house in one of the cottages owned by W. A. Parr. The young man, Chouder Fee, will soon return to Albuquerque to serve the balance of his time at his trade.

The probate judge has been petitioned to appoint W. A. Parr administrator of the estate of Thomas Henry Fee, deceased.

Special Correspondence.

Winslow, Ariz., March 28.—The Navajo Indian, commonly called Christmas, has been found and arrested and brought to town and is now in jail at Winslow. He was discovered by Wm. Lee, who was north of town after a load of wood. Mr. Lee only noticed him when he was in a few feet of him with a large club drawn as though ready to strike. Mr. Lee at once faced him and the Indian cried out "Don't kill me." Mr. Lee took charge of him and brought him to town and turned him over to Marshal D. E. Hawks, and today he had a preliminary hearing bound him over to await the action of the grand jury, which convenes next October. The Indian's name is John Stott. He declares that he has not eaten anything since he killed his wife on March 12, and his appearance verifies the story, he being just able to walk, and is almost naked and very weak.

The city convention took place last night and nominated the following citizens to fill the several offices. Conclaves: G. A. Wolff, F. T. La Prade, F. E. Flickenger, Arthur Henderson, R. C. Cressell, G. R. Bancher, F. M. French. For city clerk—Warren Britton. City marshal—D. E. Hawks. Supervisor of streets—C. A. French. The convention then adjourned.

The mayor then called a meeting of the council and appointed the following judges and clerks of election: Judges—W. A. Parr, E. Z. Rand and Milton Todd. Clerks—Ben Downs and A. W. Flickenger.

I left a land of sunshine,
In the "Sunshine State" below,
And reaching Denver City,
I found both rain and snow;
And everyone rejoicing
Because of God-sent showers.
Because the rays had come again
To start the crops and flowers.

SLASHED TO KILL.

Corstable Placido Salazar the Victim of 21 Stabs and Cuts.

DR. PEARCE ATTENDING.

Placido Salazar, the well-known constable of precinct 5 (Belen), lies at his home just south of the city limits in a dangerous condition—in fact, Dr. J. F. Pearce, who was called to see him early this morning, gives the information that if he survives it will be a miracle.

Last night, the new adobe dance hall recently erected by Thomas Gurdle on South Second street, just beyond the city limits, was initiated by a dance, and everybody in that neighborhood was invited and expected to attend.

A large crowd was present and everything went along merrily until Constable Salazar, with a party of young men, left the hall. This was about 2 o'clock this morning, and from all accounts they entered the house of Francisco Molina, No. 1219, adjoining the hall on the south.

No special noise was heard after the departure of these men from the hall, but an hour later Salazar was found lying on the ground, in the small passage between the hall and Molina's house in an unconscious condition, blood flowing from many cuts on his face and body, and no one around to tell the tale.

It was then a messenger was dispatched for a deputy sheriff and E. C. Newcomb appeared, who soon put under arrest Esteban Sals, followed shortly afterwards by the arrest of Solomon Armijo, Celso Romero and Francisco Molina. As the crime was committed outside of the city limits, the men arrested were put in the county jail, and Sals says that the real culprit—the man who used the knife—is Juan Armijo. He escaped after the cutting and up to 4 o'clock this afternoon had not been apprehended.

A citizen representative, accompanied by Policeman Martinez, visited the Salazar home in Belen this afternoon, and found him too ill to talk. Dr. Pearce had been there, and had skillfully sewed up twenty-one wounds, a majority of them being dangerous. Fourteen wounds were found on the body, the abdomen being ripped open for several inches, and seven wounds on the face and neck. The cut in the abdomen is very dangerous, likewise the cut in the left side of the face, the knife penetrating the mouth and clipping off a portion of the tongue. This cut extends almost from ear to ear.

It appears that Salazar was held for his antagonist's knife, and that the left side of his body got the majority of the wounds.

Sals is accused of holding the victim and Juan Armijo, who has evaded arrest, is accused of handling the knife.

The victim is a well-known citizen of Belen, and while he had his enemies, he was nevertheless a good citizen for that precinct where so many tough characters reside and characters who are always ready to use the knife or the sun-bone. Salazar is a married man, with a wife and a son, the latter aged about 12 years, and an aged father, who has the esteem of everybody in that precinct. These people have the sympathy of their friends over the fate which has overcome Placido Salazar—son, husband and father, and if he survives his dangerous wounds it will be through the skillful work of Dr. Pearce, who is watching his patient carefully.

STABBED TO DEATH.

A Jealous Husband Fatally Attacks His Wife With a Knife.

Rafael Montoya, at Dona Ana, on Wednesday stabbed and killed his wife in a fit of jealousy, and then attempted to kill himself.

From all accounts the murder was pre-meditated. Montoya hiding under the bed awaiting his wife's return from a visit to a neighbor. She returned in company with another woman and while talking to her, her husband crawled from under the bed, pushed the other woman out of the house, then stabbed his wife through the heart.

With the same weapon he made an unsuccessful attempt to take his own life—Las Cruces Republican.

A BEAUTIFUL EASTER.

All Churches Celebrated the Day With Music and Flowers.

A most beautiful Easter day than yesterday could not have been imagined. The result was that all churches were crowded and in nearly all of them there were special musical features. Flowers were used in decorations and many of the churches were lavishly and elaborately trimmed.

The Presbyterian.

The leading musical feature was the contralto solo which was sweetly sung by Mrs. L. H. Chamberlin. The church was decorated with flowers and an appropriate sermon was preached both morning and evening.

The Baptist.

Carnations and Easter lilies were used in decorating the church and the music was unusually fine. The Rev. H. J. Powell gave a short illustrated talk to the children and then preached from the text, "And I was dead and behold I am alive forevermore." In the evening he preached on "The Risen Lord."

The Congregational.

In the morning a mixed quartet sang two beautiful numbers. Rev. Dr. Thompson delivered a sermon on "Christ, the Good Samaritan." In the afternoon the women's annual missionary meeting was held and in the evening Rev. J. Stitt Wilson preached.

Higland M. E. Church.

Special music was given in the morning and a sermon appropriate to the day was delivered. In the evening a special Easter program was given by the Epworth League.

Lead Avenue M. E. Church.

Special music was given at both services. In the morning two beautiful anthems were sung by the choir and Miss McName sang a solo. The morning sermon was on "The Power of the Resurrection."

St. John's Episcopal.

No more beautiful service was held in the city than at St. John's. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and a largely reinforced choir gave a most elaborate musical program. The solos were sung by Miss Heimbeck and Miss Julia Renison. The sermon was appropriate to the day. The evening service was also an elaborate one.

Immaculate Conception.

Easter lilies and other beautiful flowers adorned the church and the musical part of the service was one of the finest ever heard here. The regular choir was much strengthened and it was further reinforced by the Sisters' choir. The program given was the most elaborate ever heard here. Vespers last evening was a most impressive service.

ORGAN.

Special Correspondence.

Organ, N. M., March 31.—The Torpedo mine had an explosion on Saturday about 3:30 p. m. One of the 60-horse power boilers exploded, and the best of all is no one was hurt. The boiler house was riddled and blew the smokestacks off the other two boilers. The damage is slight and within twenty-four hours the stacks were replaced on the other boilers, connection made, steam up and at work as if nothing had happened, and commenced to repair the exploded boiler. The compartment shaft is down about 250 feet. The cause of the accident is not known. This was quick work under the management of James Chatham.

The Excelsior mine is working a small force on high grade copper ore and will commence shipping in April.

W. H. Mackey, Jr., and associates are driving the tunnel on the Bennett-Stevenson mines to catch the Stevenson ore as fast as possible.

The Organ camp is on the eve of a steady and substantial growth in the production of ore with a number of properties getting ready to start up.

The people of Organ enjoy themselves hugely with a nice social dance once a week.

CUT ALMOST IN TWO.

Railroad Man, Unfamiliar With Yards, Gives Order That Causes His Death.

H. Quinn, of Santa Fe switchman, was killed in the yards at Trinidad on Sunday night. Quinn, who went to that city a few days ago, was unfamiliar with the yards and did not know the location of many blind switches. While placing a car of ties at the head of a number of coal cars, by means of a flying switch, Quinn signalled the engineer to go ahead and ran the engine over one of the blind switches directly in the path of the car of ties. The car struck the engine on the pilot, where Quinn was riding and cut him almost in two. The engineer and fireman ran around to his assistance. His head and body were hanging from between the cars. Quinn looked at them and said "For God's sake, boys, get me out of this." In an instant he was dead.

An inquest was held but the jury declared they were unable to fix any responsibility for the accident. Quinn leaves a wife and four children and has a mother and two brothers in Kansas.
